

Navigation to Clinical Trials: A Webinar Series

Oncology Patient Navigation for Health Equity

Clinical trials are essential in advancing potential new cancer treatments from the research setting to the cancer care clinic. Many patients express interest in participating in clinical research, yet only a small fraction ultimately enroll in a cancer clinical trial.

This three-part webinar series will focus on the importance of oncology clinical trials, processes for addressing patient barriers preventing participation in clinical trials, and practices for navigating patients through clinical trials.

Part 1: June 5, 2023, 12:00 – 1:00 pm EST

Importance of oncology clinical trials and disparities in enrollment
Robert Winn, MD – VCU Massey Cancer Center

Part 2: June 20, 2023, 1:30 – 2:30 pm EST

Addressing structural and clinical barriers of clinical trials participation
Mary Salazar, DNP – UT Health San Antonio Mays Cancer Center
Chanita Hughes-Halbert, PhD – Norris Comprehensive Cancer Center at University of Southern California

Part 3: June 27, 2023, 12:00 – 1:00 pm EST

Lessons learned in navigating patients through oncology clinical trials
Mariesha Hicks Person, MHA – UT Southwestern Medical Center
Fabian Robles, MBBS, MS-HLM, CHI – UT Southwestern Medical Center

Registration is required.

Visit <https://bit.ly/3A6oQpu> or scan the QR code.

Sponsorship for this initiative was led by AstraZeneca and the Janssen Pharmaceutical Companies of Johnson & Johnson, along with Bristol Myers Squibb. Additional sponsors include GlaxoSmithKline, Daiichi Sankyo, Novocure, Pfizer, Sanofi and other funders.